

Recruitment Advertisement

Liberty Project Worker (full time 35hrs), £23,500

Do you have the skills to be our newest full time Project Worker?

If you are passionate about making a positive difference, supporting women and working in an established charity you may be the person to join A Way Out's Liberty team. You will support the delivery of the Liberty Service outreach and recovery program, meeting and building relationships with vulnerable women and holding a caseload of those women who require support from agencies for a range of issues, who have had experience of exploitation, violence, abuse, and trauma offering practical and emotional support to encourage and motivate change.

You will be joining a team that delivers an assertive outreach and recovery program working within a trauma informed and strengths-based approach using a three staged model of engagement. Our prime focus is on tackling and addressing issues which affect women who sell sex and women who have/are experiencing sexual exploitation and the wide range of associated issues i.e., substance misuse, homelessness, offending, historic trauma, mental health etc.

We aim to enable and empower women to make positive choices, improving their safety through harm reduction interventions and supporting them throughout their recovery journey increasing opportunities for access to services. You will be part of a team of staff and volunteers providing evening and late-night outreach, daytime outreach, low threshold drop-ins, group work and one to one recovery support, intending to enhance the lifestyles of women, whilst widening their long-term aspirations.

Alongside role responsibilities, Liberty team staff individually champion specified areas of team delivery e.g.: mental health, housing, domestic abuse, digital engagement etc. In the first instance we are looking for someone with experience of supporting clients with mental health issues alongside other complex needs. The post holder will lead on keeping up to date with local, regional and national mental health issues and responses and how they affect our clients. They will share knowledge and experience with the wider team and help facilitate and support information sharing to promote choice and independence with clients.

It is an Occupational Requirement that application for this post is open to women only, as permitted under Schedule 9, Part 1, of the Equality Act 2010.

For further information including the job description. Person spec and application form please go to <https://www.awayout.co.uk/join-the-team>

Completed application forms should be sent to hannah.aspland@awayout.co.uk by closing date of 13.06.2022.