

Fundraising Coordinator

(18 hours per week - £23,000 pro rata)

Do you have a passion for supporting and encouraging support for women, young people and families across our region?

A Way Out is looking to hire a dynamic individual to join our team as a Fundraising Coordinator.

You will be responsible for developing our network of corporate partners (particularly local businesses) and create mutually beneficial opportunities for them to support A Way Out through fundraising, providing grants, donating goods or employee volunteering.

You will also work with trustees, staff and volunteers to raise awareness and understanding of A Way Out and generate additional income including building our networks within the Christian community, securing funding from charitable trusts, and creating opportunities for our beneficiaries to be involved in fundraising.

This is an exciting opportunity to work flexibly, utilising a hybrid approach. There will be some occasional commitment required to weekend and evening work but this will be incorporated into a healthy work life balance arrangement.
